

School Board names new administrators

Two new principals, four assistant principals, and an interim assistant principal were appointed June 25 by the Chino Valley Unified School District (CVUSD) Board of Education.

Thomas Rummell will be Wickman Elementary School's new principal, replacing Don Wilson who retired this summer.

Karen Morales, a former assistant principal at Walnut Avenue Elementary School in Chino, will be Walnut's new principal.

New assistant principals and their campuses are Ashley Barnett, Woodcrest Junior High in Ontario; Shauna White and Kristina Gentry, Magnolia Junior High in Chino; and Renae Ramsey, Butterfield Ranch Elementary School in Chino Hills.

Trevor Carenzo will be interim assistant principal at Hidden Trails Elementary School in Chino Hills. Rummell joined CVUSD in 1999 as a third grade teacher at Butterfield Ranch Elementary. He taught first grade there from 2000 to 2003. He was a first grade teacher at Rhodes Elementary School in Chino in the 2003-2004 school year. Rummell moved to Gird Elementary School in Chino in 2004 as a fourth grade teacher, and became its assistant principal in 2006. He was appointed an assistant principal at Magnolia Junior High in 2009.

Morales joined CVUSD in 1991 as a first grade teacher at Walnut Avenue Elementary. She also taught kindergarten and second grade at the school, and she became an intervention teacher in 2011. She served as assistant principal of the school in the 2013-2014 school year, and as assistant principal at Glenmeade Elementary School in Chino Hills in the last school year.

Barnett is new to the school district. She previously worked in curriculum design for San Bernardino City Unified School District, as a math team leader at Arrowview Middle School in San Bernardino, and as a math director and coach at Vasquez High School in Acton. She was also a volleyball coach and counselor from 2003 to 2006 for the University of California, Riverside.

White is also new to the district. She previously worked as a program facilitator at Golden Valley Middle School in San Bernardino, and before that, as an eighth grade English/Language Arts teacher at Arrowview Middle School.

Gentry joined CVUSD in 2006, working at Magnolia Junior High for Foundational Math. She was a math instructor coach at Magnolia in the 2010-2011 school year, worked for the Categorical program as a teacher on assignment from 2011 to 2014, and as an intervention specialist at Magnolia in the last school year.

Ramsey joined CVUSD in 2000 as a second/third grade teacher at Los Serranos Elementary School in Chino Hills. In 2003, she joined the staff at Rhodes Elementary School, where she taught kindergarten, first, third, fourth and fifth grades. In 2010, she moved to Cal Aero Preserve Academy in Chino, where she taught first, second, third and sixth grades.

Carenzo joined CVUSD in 2013 as a sixth grade teacher at Chaparral Elementary School in Chino Hills. He taught a fifth/sixth grade combination grade class last school year at Chaparral.
