

Isaac Omar Chavez / Diaz, Editor/Creator

Welcome! This is the digital paper made by none other than me, Isaac! You'll have a good laugh with my comic strips, get fun facts about animals with "Animal, Animal?", get a good inspiring saying with "Historical Inspiration", get good little tidbits of information with "Scholaring Up", enjoy interacting with some of my featured people in "The MoldyGH Collection", and most important of all, the "Big Story" of the month! You've already (probably) noticed I'm saying "month". That's because there'll be a new edition of The Rhodes GazZette every month! You can log onto the Edwin Rhodes Elementary School page online every month to see my newspapers. By the way, NONE of this would be possible, I WOULD NOT BE WRITING THIS PAPER, if it wasn't for our principal, Dr. Large! I also have to give credit to my teacher & editor, Mrs. O'Brien! You can read all about them on the website you're on NOW! And now, I think everyone should know the origin of this newspaper.

From Humble Beginnings (Big Story!)

You may think that I was always this interested in writing than I am currently. And you're right! It all began when I was 8. At that time, I had learned about YouTube. My dream was to become a YouTuber. But eventually, I figured another way to be famous was to be an author. The fact that you've gotta log on every month AND the fact that this paper is digital is a little OvErWhElMiNg, right? Well, my fear of robot overlords keeps the balance of tech in check.

"I can make... a million of me!"

Please make sure you don't copy any of my ideas or this paper. That is copyright.

"I can be a skyscraper!"

This article might be a little... short, so if anyone has ideas for a comic strip, please share!

"You're spraying Cheese Fizz on the camera!"

I will strive to find high quality images to show in this paper.

"Not when I shift into MAXIMUM OVERDRIVE!"

I will never lie in this paper. These stories (besides the comic strips, the Living Sushi Channel and the MoldyGH Collection) are all true.

Another thing is that I never found cooking, zoos, exploring, or construction interesting. By the way, I bet you had seen the little Rhodey on the cover of my paper. Well, that's not Rhodey. That's Rhodey's sister, Rhodette! And not these rhodettes:

No, the Rhodette here is a certain Rhodette that is made of papyrus paper, a cloth wrapping, a little teensy graduate hat, and two legs, and oddly, no arms. I just made the concept, ok?

Beetle Warning!!

Sorry to interrupt your monthly program, but if you are one of those people who are scared of beetles, you should listen to this quick (depending on how fast you read) warning.

If you do not know of which time beetles come to the school, it is going to be March to the end of the school year. In March, you should be expecting beetles. By the way, don't kill them by stepping on them. I know this is weird, but the other beetles will see & smell the death of another beetle, so this attracts even MORE beetles. Thank you for listening to my quick (depending on how fast you read) warning.

THIS HAS BEEN A EBW! (Early Beetle Warning!) Thanks!

“Scholaring Up: Math”

A variable is an alphabet or term that represents an unknown number or unknown value. The variables are specially used in the case of algebra.

“Scholaring Up: History”

Crispus Attucks was killed in the Boston Massacre.

“Animal, Animal?”

California quail

The California Quail is a cute, round bird with a gray chest, scaled underparts, and a forward-drooping topknot. They’re mainly herbivores and often eat seeds and plants. Usually, they scratch at the ground in groups or use their running legs. California Quail are common but shy. They run away if scared, so approach them gently.

“Historical Inspiration”

“He that lies down with Dogs, shall rise up with fleas.”

- Benjamin Franklin, “Poor Richard’s Almanac”

This month’s comic strip(s).

WEAR DEODERANT!!

OK, who forgot to wear deoderant?

Ned the Napkin

Ned, could you clean
this up?

Why do you always
ASK ME?

And now, Dave's Algebra Class!

Dave: Hello! This is my algebra class. If you don't like it, TOO BAD! You can't skip it.

Now, remember, we're in Dave's class, we follow Dave's rules. By the way, his full name is literally Dave Algebra Class. So if you want, just call him Mr. Class. (By the way, you can skip it. He's just joking.)

Dave: Now let's get on with the lesson.

Pre-Algebra: Part 1

There's a lot of parts here, but let's just see how far we get. I don't remember how many. I'm sure your teachers have already taught you this, so this technically isn't a class. It's just a review. Really teases my name, you know. Let's start with some practice problems.

1. $2 \times 4 + (8 / 4) \times 8 + 6$

- a. 40
- b. 34
- c. 30
- d. 20

2. $8 + 6 \times 3 + (40 \times 8) / 2 \times 6$

- a. 986
- b. 753
- c. 1075
- d. 634

Alright, now let's just review what we learned.
I'll start. Nothing.

Next up is Dave's friend, Bambi! (Bambi's Corn Farm)

Bambi: I don't get what I'm supposed to do here.

You tell everyone stuff about corn, silly.

CORN?!?! NO! NOBODY GETS TO KNOW ANYTHING ABOUT MY CORN!

Well, I guess that's too bad.

Ok, FOINE. Hi. I am Bambi. You saw that on the title of the thingy.

Corn is usually used in processed foods, it's used all around the globe, there's six major types of corn, sweet corn is a low-starch type of corn, flint corn is a hard variety of corn, the unique look of pod corn is because some guy who has no appreciation for the value of corn mutated a perfect ear of corn, and the word "corny" is used in puns.

May I sit down now, Mr.

Ilovetogetotherpeople'sinformationasanexcusetostealcorn?

You said "corn" like, 9 times. In one sentence, on top of that. The fact that you're two hot dogs tall doesn't help. Anyway, we've got two more people to star in, and they're brothers!

Lastly, here's... the guy with the red witch hat and the one that looks like Luigi without overalls or a mustache.

Bandu: Yello! I got lots o' phones!!

Expunged: Yeah, we can tell them more later.

Anywho, you guys gotta tell the audience about phones.

Easy! I've got, like, 12 of them on me right now!

The first words to be transmitted on a phone were-

"Mr. Watson, come here. I want to see you."

Oh. Ok, these words were transmitted by - Alexander Graham Bell.

Ah, classic sibling rivalry.

😞 The first greeting on the phone was actually-

Ahoy.

😞 The first SMS text was -

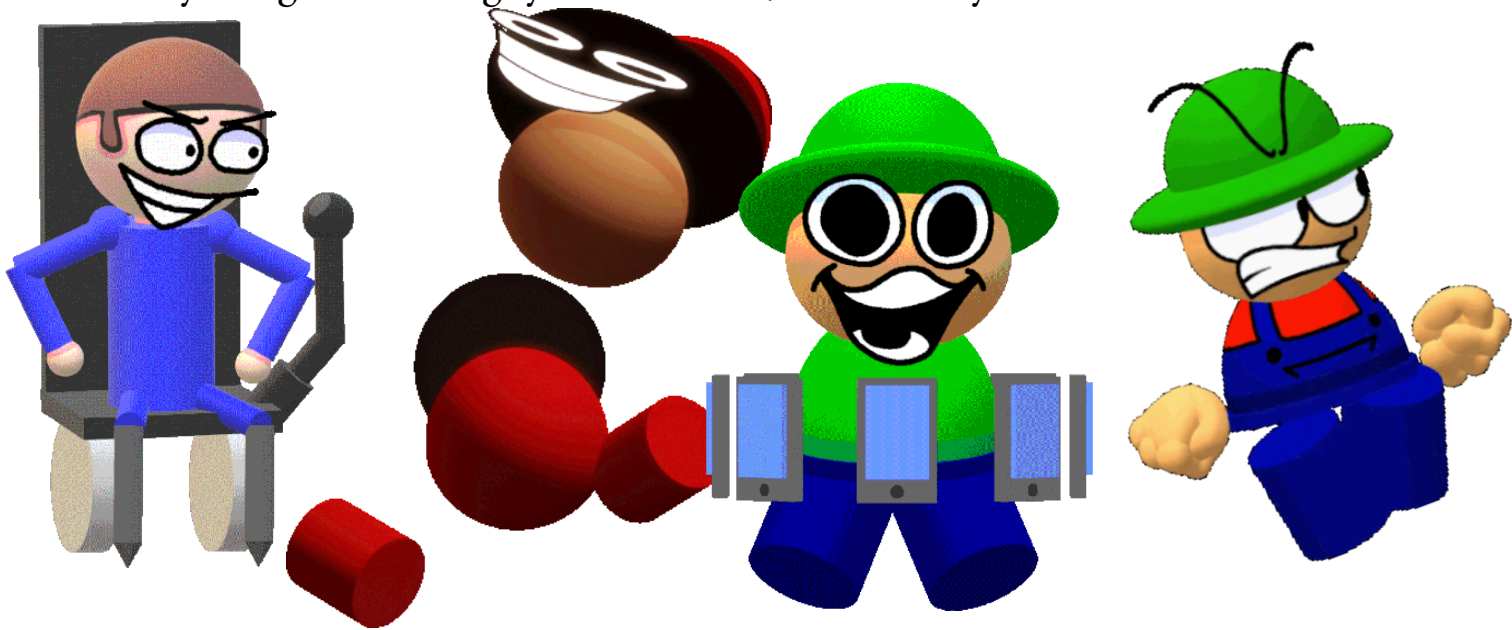

"Merry Christmas".

100,000 PAYPHONES ARE STILL AVAILABLE IN THE U.S!!!!!!!!!!!!

THERE! I SAID A FACT! SINCE I SAID IT AT THE BEGINNING, YOU COULDN'T FINISH MY SENTENCE!!!

BWAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAH!

I bet you figured these guys have bodies, so here they are.

Thanks to MoldyGH for inspiration on this idea! I doubt he's gonna see this message, though.

Knock Knock.

Who's there?

Cash.

Cash who?

Na, I like peanuts better.

Would you rather...

Eat pizza or ice cream?

The Living Sushi Channel

This is Nigiri, Gunkan, and Teppanyaki. They're named after Japanese dishes. They own "The Living Sushi Channel". They're here to give you one Japanese dish fact. This month's dish is...

Udon Noodles

- Udon noodles are thick noodles made of wheat flour.
- They're chewy.
- They come in many different types, like Zaru udon, Kake udon, and Kamaage udon.

Thank you for listening to...
The Living Sushi Channel.
