

Tim can jump.

I can play.

We can see the cat.

We play in the sand.

Pam can use a ruler.

I can see a fish.

It is good to listen.

We like pizza!

Mom and I go to the store.

I see a cat and a dog.

We do want to go!

Do you like milk?

Ted and Ed are friends.

Do you like my hat?

I go with Ron to the farm.

He ate a red apple.

The bugs are little.

My bike is red.

They went to the park.

I want to see a lion.

The vet said Max is fine.

The book belongs to me.

The bus is here.

What do zebras eat?

I was on this street.

Jake can help, too.

I help to rake the leaves.

My class has a pet.

Mike and I play a game.

Look at the owl's home.

Where do roses grow?

You did a good job.

Who can use the paint?

Does this bus go north?

Jake will come to my house.

I walk down the hill.

Jim let the dog out.

Pam lives there.

Tim will help me.

Her cat is Tam.

I have two books.

Then I went to the store.

Sam has one map.

I could do that for you.

I see her new hat.

Mark put all the cans in the box.

Nat will put the books in the right place.

What day of the week is it?

Pam will use that map.

I wrote more than Nat.

What is the book about?

Nina will work hard on her homework.

Do you like apples or oranges?

Jack may dig a big hole.

What other book do you like?

We will each present our projects.

Dave can bake more cakes.

I can see into the cave.

The gull flew over the lake.

Can you find where she is hiding?

I know you very well.

Mike and Kate were late.

Kim will write a play.

I hoped my kite would fly high.

Dale only has one rose.

I want a part of the pie.

You are the first one in line.

I know the words to the song.

I know their cat.

I love the sound of bells.
