▶ Digital Citizenship made easy with lesson plans and activities

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the URL [common sense.org/education/](https://www.common sense.org/education/). The browser's address bar and tabs are visible at the top. Below the browser window, the website's navigation menu is shown, with tabs for "For Parents", "For Educators" (which is selected), and "For Advocates". The main content area features a green header with the "common sense education" logo and a search bar. Below the header, there are four main content categories: "Digital Citizenship", "EdTech Reviews", "Professional Development & Advice", and "Resources in Spanish". Under "Digital Citizenship", there is a sub-section for "News and Media Literacy Resource Center" with an image of various digital devices. To the right, under "Our Curriculum", there are links for "About Digital Citizenship" and "Lesson Plans". Under "Resources", there are links for "Classroom Posters", "Toolkits by Topic", "Family Engagement Resources", "Classroom Videos", and "Case Studies". Under "Our Student Games", there are links for "Digital Passport™ (Grades 3–5)" and "Digital Compass™ (Grades 6–8)". At the bottom of the page, there is a large image of two children, one of whom is holding a microphone. Overlaid on this image are two buttons: a green "Show me" button and a white "Scroll down" button with a downward arrow.

KQED Educational Resources

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the URL ww2.kqed.org/education/series/lesson-plans/. The browser's address bar and tabs are visible at the top. The website's navigation menu includes "KQED Education", "PROFESSIONAL LEARNING", "FOR CLASSROOMS", "YOUTH MEDIA", and "CONNECT". A red "Donate" button and a search icon are also present.

Below the navigation, a text block reads: "Find lesson plans for high school and middle school that encourage critical thinking and are relevant to current events in social studies, science, and arts."

The main content area features three featured articles:

High School Resources too!

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the URL ww2.kqed.org/education/youth-media-resources/. The browser's address bar and tabs are visible at the top. The website's navigation bar includes the KQED Education logo, a hamburger menu, and several menu items: 'PROFESSIONAL LEARNING', 'FOR CLASSROOMS' (which is highlighted with a dotted border), 'YOUTH MEDIA', and 'CONNECT'. A 'Donate' button with a heart icon and a search icon are also present in the navigation bar.

Below the navigation bar, there is a large video player. The video shows a young man wearing a grey 'CALIFORNIA' sweatshirt sitting at a desk in a radio studio. He is holding a piece of paper and looking towards the camera. A professional microphone is positioned in front of him. A red 'ON AIR' sign is visible on the desk. The background shows a window with a view of a building.

At the bottom of the screenshot, the Windows taskbar is visible, showing the search bar and various application icons. The system clock in the bottom right corner indicates the time is 1:29 PM on 1/31/2020.
