

Hello Ayala Parents,

The Holiday Season is finally starting to begin. The end of the semester is approaching fast! Here are the following assignments, projects, quizzes, test, and / or events for this November. Progress report cards will be coming out this month, so please keep an eye out for those. If you are wondering about the grading, please be sure to check out Aeries for a proper break down of assignments and the grade your child received. For any questions and/or concerns, always feel free to e-mail me at Jennifer_enriquez@chino.k12.ca.us
