C. COURSE CONTENT

1. Course Purpose:
This course is designed for the California Career and Technical Education Engineering and Architecture sector. This course is aligned to the California Career and Technical Education Standards: Engineering Technology pathway and is designed to be an Introductory level course.

2. Course Outline:
Unit 1: Inclined to Design
Unit 1 introduces students to foundational cross-disciplinary engineering concepts, empowers them to develop and strengthen their transportable skills, and exposes them to global engineering challenges that the next generation will face. Throughout the unit, students will imagine themselves as engineers and envision a future in which they can make a difference in the world.
Students learn the engineering design process and have the opportunity to apply that process to multiple projects and problems throughout the unit as they improve their communication and collaboration skills. They reflect on design problems and solutions from a systems perspective and investigate ethics as they consider the impact of engineering decisions. Students also learn basic skills associated with project management, including developing a project schedule and critical path analysis to help them plan and track progress during larger projects. They use a GIS as a tool to help identify, define, and solve problems using spatial information.

Unit 2: Make it Move
In Unit 2, students apply mechanical and mathematical concepts to design solutions to engineering problems. They develop multiple types of models to represent aspects of real objects/phenomena, including conceptual models, graphic models (drawings), 3-D solid computer models, physical models, and mathematical models, and begin to understand the inherent limitations of each. These models are used to define, test, and communicate design ideas and mechanical solutions.
Students build on skills and knowledge gained from Unit 1 and have additional opportunities to apply the design process, experimental design, systems thinking, and project management to design and test mechanical solutions to improve people’s lives. Students continue to develop their collaboration and communication skills and consider the impact of their solution on people and society.

Unit 3: Power it Up
In Unit 3, students discover the foundation of all modern electronic devices, such as cellular phones, MP3 players, and high-definition televisions. Students learn how to use digital circuits to develop electronic solutions that improve people’s lives.
Students review energy forms and the transfer of energy into the form of electricity. They investigate the fundamental circuit components, concepts, equipment, and skill set associated with circuit design. Students use graphical, computer, and physical models to represent and investigate analog circuits. Students design experiments to determine the relationship among voltage, current, and resistance in circuits. They are then introduced to the basics of digital signals, starting with truth tables and logic expressions, then apply the design process to design, simulate, and breadboard a circuit to accomplish a goal. Finally, students collaborate and work with other teams as they apply skills and knowledge learned in prior units to develop a proof of concept prototype for an electromechanical system.

Unit 4: Make a Plan
In Unit 4, students investigate issues related to population growth and development, and use geographic information systems as tools to define, model, and solve engineering challenges that result from development.

3. Key Assignments:
1.1 Engineers and Engineering

In Lesson 1.1, students consider their perception of engineers and engineering. They learn brainstorming techniques, define mindset characteristics that are important to success in engineering, and identify their own personal traits that align with engineering. Using their personal engineering perspective, students reflect individually and within a team on global engineering challenges, choose a challenge that they feel is the most important challenge facing their generation, and gather evidence to make a persuasive presentation to convince an audience of its importance.
1.2 Systems and the Engineering Design Process

Students are introduced to the concepts of systems and systems thinking as a mindset used to consider the interconnectedness of our world and the far-reaching impacts of engineering decisions. Students use a GIS to investigate natural and man-made systems to inform design decisions. Students also practice brainstorming techniques as they address ethical considerations related to systems thinking.

1.3 Product Design

In this lesson, students explore a variety of ethical perspectives, then analyze a scientific experiment and learn to design experiments in order to gain specific knowledge and understanding. The lesson also introduces the concept of sustainability as students design and carry out an experiment related to sustainability, consider the impacts and trade-offs necessary in engineering decision-making, and discuss the ethical implications of those decisions.

1.4 Natural Disaster Relief Center

In the final lesson of Unit 1, students develop basic skills necessary to create maps and layers in a geographic information system in order to address the unit problem. Students work independently and as part of a team to apply the knowledge and skills developed throughout the unit to design a relief center system to serve a community devastated by a natural disaster.

2.1 Machines

In this lesson, students review simple and compound machines as they develop and use models to represent objects and systems. Students employ experimental design to inform development of a model that represents important aspects of a phenomenon and develop a protocol to test the function of a compound machine compared to design criteria. Finally, students work collaboratively using a design process to develop an assistive mechanical device to improve the health and well-being of an individual.

2.2 Mechanical Motion

Students are introduced to – and practice determining – quantities related to mechanical systems, including mechanical energy, gear ratio, torque, and mechanical advantage. They explore various types of motion and methods to convert one type of motion to another (e.g., linear motion to rotation). Students continue to develop skills in using 3-D design software to represent parts and systems and learn how to constrain degrees of freedom to simulate realistic motion. Students apply a design process and employ the use of conceptual, computer, mathematical, and physical models and the concepts of mechanical work and mechanical advantage to reduce the amount of work we do.

2.3 Mechanical Systems

Students apply prior learning and technical skills, a design process, experimental design, systems thinking, and project management to design and test a mechanical solution to improve people’s lives. In the process, students continue to improve their collaboration and communication skills.

3.1 Energy Conversion

This lesson begins by examining the importance of energy and electricity in our lives. Students view a video timeline of the impact of electricity on society and learn about how energy converted to electricity and transferred to our homes and businesses – where it is transformed into other forms of energy for our use. Students examine local and global electrical usage and consider the ethical implications associated with energy sources and energy use. In addition, students are introduced to electrical circuits and various models used to represent electrical circuits, including physical models, schematics, and computer simulations. Students use technology to measure voltage, current, and resistance, and experiment to determine a mathematical model to represent the relationship among those quantities in a circuit.

3.2 Logic

In this lesson, students gain knowledge and skills necessary to design and build circuits – starting with truth tables and logic expressions – used to represent the input and output of a logic gate, the basic building block of digital circuits. Students investigate how circuits work, learn to represent circuits with truth tables and logic expressions, and build physical models using integrated chips. Students also learn the basics of programming a microcontroller to electronically control products and devices through data collection, sensing, and actuation of physical components. Using a microcontroller to gather data from multiple sensors, students collaboratively design an input device that can be used later in the design of an electromechanical device.

3.3 Electromechanical Systems

Students work in teams to develop a proof of concept design and prototype of an electromechanical system to perform specific functions. This problem provides opportunities for students to continue building skills in communication, collaboration, and ethical engineering practice.

4.1 Urban Design

In Lesson 4.1, students predict global population growth and investigate impacts and challenges of population growth and urbanization. They investigate urban subsystems that allow high-density population centers to function and are introduced to the concept of urban planning. The ideas of risk and trade-offs in engineering design are discussed, and students consider risks and rewards related to potential solutions to urban infrastructure problems. In collaborative teams, students apply their learning as they design a city development plan and consider the environmental, social, and economic impacts of their design.

4.2 Maps as Models

This lesson provides opportunities to investigate a variety of online geographic information system tools that support urban planning and engineering design (e.g., determining flood probabilities, locating traffic controls, conducting feasibility studies for new waste disposal facilities). Students practice geospatial data collection strategies and produce maps to model geospatial information.

4.3 The Sustainable Urban Environment

Students learn additional GIS development skills and use geographic information systems as a tool to consider sustainable solutions to modern challenges from a systems perspective. They use GIS technology to investigate population density and the ethical implications related to high versus low population density development. Students explore the UN Sustainable Development Goal of making cities inclusive, safe, resilient, and sustainable, then students create a map to help communicate the problem. Students further investigate a local sustainability issue (land cover resulting in increased storm water runoff and erosion) and modify a previously created GIS map to include additional geospatial features. They use their maps to estimate impervious land cover and compare their model to published map data to assess its accuracy. Students design a method to reduce runoff and use an online mathematical model to predict the impact of their solution on the volume of storm water runoff.

4.4 A Better Place

In this lesson, students have the opportunity to fully apply the engineering design process and prior learning related to systems thinking, modeling, and project management as they work in collaborative teams to develop a solution to improve the safety and well-being of the citizens of a local community. As part of the design process, teams reflect on the impact and ethical implications of their design decisions and solutions.

C. COURSE CONTENT

1. Course Purpose:

The primary focus of the course is to prepare college-bound 12th graders to succeed in the rigorous academic setting of college in a Business or Hospitality major. The Hospitality Senior Project course is an in-depth project-based class...
2. Course Outline:

Unit 1: Internship, Work Experience, Job Shadowing
The real-world working conditions and learning experience that is provided by this Capstone course will allow students the opportunity to apply their career and academic skills in a practical business and finance setting. Students develop and practice an understanding of high skill career duties and responsibilities, terminology, climate, protocol, and other information that will enable students to analyze and revise their meaningful plans. During this course, students will be participating in paid or non-paid work-based learning experiences (job shadowing, observations, and internships) with classroom instruction in employability skills and career exploration. Students develop positive work habits, self-confidence, job skills, and a personal career exploration. While completing a real-life experience in an area of the student’s choice, a student will complete a weekly reflection report. Each week the class will share their experience with classmates. Students will reflect on their learning and how they can apply to future career or college plans.

Unit 2: Research Project/Business Plan
The research project is designed to provide students the opportunity to demonstrate their skills and knowledge learned in the Business, Hospitality and Tourism Industry Sector. Completing the project demonstrates their ability to plan, organize and create a product or event. The project also allows them to pursue specific interests and to meet professional expectations for the Hospitality and Tourism Industry. There are three main components of the research project: a research paper, a product or activity and the project presentation.

- Research Paper: The student will write an in dept, 8-12-page research paper using MLA guidelines for margins, text, formatting, heading and titles and page numbering.
- Conducting Research: As students research their topics, they should ask questions such as “What do I really want to know about the subject?” “What interests me the most about this?” “What makes it worth investigating?” Using primary sources, students will seek answers to their questions and gain a deeper understanding about their topic by finding facts and ideas from a variety of reliable sources. They will be guided through the process of drafting their research findings using appropriate rhetorical, grammatical and syntactical patterns, forms and structures to meet the needs of their intended audiences (peers and panel of judges). They will incorporate and write a business plan for a new company or product which will include developing goals and objective, creating a complete marketing plan, and construct projected financial reports. By reading materials such as corporate annual reports, marketing communications documents, company profiles, and the textbook “Marketing Essentials”, the student will be able to determine and conduct surveys to analyze and graph consumer preferences and interview two corporate executives to attain advice and suggestions in creating their business plan.
- Upon completion of the research and gathering data, the student will write and present their plan developed for an audience of potential investors.

Unit 3: Portfolio
The portfolio is a collection of evidence that demonstrates the student’s skills and abilities throughout the hospitality Capstone course. It helps prepare students for college and employment in three compliment ways. First, it is the central part of the course that gives student an opportunity to master important writing skills, meaningful to their possible audiences. Second, by completing the requirements, students can showcase their best works to colleges and potential employers. Third, by taking responsibility for putting together this collection, students plan and document their accomplishments, as well as identify areas for further improvement.

Work Samples: Students showcase and describe four work samples of their best work that reflects a substantial program activity. There are practical examples of the student’s workplace learning and written work that are linked directly to the CTE Model Curriculum Standards for the Hospitality Business and Tourism Sector.
Unit 4 - Operating a School-Based Enterprise (SBE)

Student will operate and manage a business laboratory which will provide several benefits to the students. Student will operate an actual business where student can apply the marketing theory and principles learned during academy coursework. Students will conduct research, practice merchandising/display, apply forms of business operations, analyze financial data, execute purchasing procedure and inventory control. In addition, students will understand product security, salesmanship and practice the marketing mix. The school laboratory will give students an opportunity to supplement, reinforce, and enhance the knowledge, skills and attitudes required for careers in the Hospitality Industry. Development of business-like procedures, management skills, and leadership proficiencies are the focus of the unit.

The curriculum included in this document is generic to the modern languages. The modern language standards are meant to be inclusive of all languages and are not written for any specific language, however, all languages are different and have different vocabulary, syntactic structures, sound systems, writing systems, and represent different cultures. The standards for foreign language are aligned with the five goal areas specified by the National Foreign Language Standards as follows: communication, cultures, connections, comparisons, and communities. There are a total of eleven (11) standards. These standards are general in nature and apply to all levels of foreign language instruction. For each of the eleven standards, there are specific objectives that define what students should know and be able to do upon completion of a particular level of instruction. In addition, performance indicators, or examples of student performance and appropriate classroom activities, are provided for many of the objectives.
14. Prerequisites:
- FRENCH 2; OR FRENCH 2H; AND/OR TEACHER RECOMMENDATION

Stages of Learning — For each level of instruction, stages of learning are indicated. There are three stages of learning: beginning, developing, and expanding. The learning stages represent a continuum of development, reflecting the diversity and idiosyncratic nature of individual student learning, as opposed to levels of instruction, defined by years or semesters of classroom instruction. Each learning stage may require more than one level of instruction, depending on various factors such as student ability, classroom instruction, diversity of scheduling, and other variables affecting student learning. Expanding Stage — Students are able to communicate in more complex and involved situations, can respond to problems, and can resolve those problems using the foreign language. The content must provide strong and organized links to the topics covered in class and include personal insight and opinions. Students must also effectively use a variety of the conventions relative to the format of the text.

The evaluation of student progress and evaluation will be based on the following criteria outlined in board policy:

- Assessments: 60-75% of the final grade
- Assignments and class discussions: 25-40% of the final grade

13. Brief Course Description:
THE STANDARDS FOR FOREIGN LANGUAGE ARE ALIGNED WITH THE FIVE GOAL AREAS SPECIFIED BY THE NATIONAL FOREIGN LANGUAGE STANDARDS AS FOLLOWS: COMMUNICATION, CULTURES, CONNECTIONS, COMPARISONS, AND COMMUNITIES. THERE IS A TOTAL OF ELEVEN (11) STANDARDS. THESE STANDARDS ARE GENERAL IN NATURE AND APPLY TO ALL LEVELS OF FOREIGN LANGUAGE INSTRUCTION. FOR EACH OF THE ELEVEN STANDARDS, THERE ARE SPECIFIC OBJECTIVES THAT DEFINE WHAT STUDENTS SHOULD KNOW AND CAN DO UPON COMPLETION OF A PARTICULAR LEVEL OF INSTRUCTION. IN ADDITION, PERFORMANCE INDICATORS, OR EXAMPLES OF STUDENT PERFORMANCE AND APPROPRIATE CLASSROOM ACTIVITIES, ARE PROVIDED FOR MANY OF THE OBJECTIVES.

The curriculum included in this document is generic to the modern languages. The modern language standards are meant to be inclusive of all languages and are not written for any specific language, however, all languages are different and have different vocabulary, syntactic structures, sound systems, writing systems, and represent different cultures. The standards for foreign language are aligned with the five goal areas specified by the National Foreign Language Standards as follows: communication, cultures, connections, comparisons, and communities. There are a total of eleven (11) standards. These standards are general in nature and apply to all levels of foreign language instruction. For each of the eleven standards, there are specific objectives that define what students should know and be able to do upon completion of a particular level of instruction. In addition, performance indicators, or examples of student performance and appropriate classroom activities, are provided for many of the objectives.

Stages of Learning — For each level of instruction, stages of learning are indicated. There are three stages of learning: beginning, developing, and expanding. The learning stages represent a continuum of development, reflecting the diversity and idiosyncratic nature of individual student learning, as opposed to levels of instruction, defined by years or semesters of classroom instruction. Each learning stage may require more than one level of instruction, depending on various factors such as student ability, classroom instruction, diversity of scheduling, and other variables affecting student learning. The beginning stage commences in Level I and may carry over into Level II. The developing stage may begin in Level II and generally includes Level III, perhaps extending into Level IV. The expanding stage will usually incorporate instruction initiated in Level IV and possibly continue through Level VI.

Beginning Stage — Students can communicate with memorized phrases and words. Expressing basic wants and needs is accomplished with simple statements such as “I would like to go to the movies.”

Developing Stage — Students are not only able to express basic wants and needs, but can also elaborate on them. For example, “I would like to go to the movies, but I don’t have any money because I spent it all on CDs yesterday.”

Expanding Stage — Students are able to communicate in more complex and involved situations, can respond to problems, and can resolve those problems using the foreign language. For example, “I would like to go to the movies, but I don’t have any money. Could you loan me some money and I’ll pay you back when I have the chance.”

SUBJECT: NEW COURSE: CSU EXPOSITORY READING AND WRITING (11TH)

BACKGROUND

The Chino Valley Unified School District routinely revises curriculum guides and develops new courses in accordance with State Content Standards, State Frameworks, and student need. Accordingly, the revision and development of curriculum guides are the results of a collaborative effort of teachers in the related academic areas.

CSU Expository Reading and Writing (11th) is a rigorous, year-long college-preparatory English course designed to increase academic preparation of California’s diverse students for college-level reading and writing. This course is the most recent revision of the ERWC curriculum designed by high school teachers along with California State University and meets the UC/CSU ‘b’ English requirement. This is a new course offering for 11th grade students and compliments the 12th grade course we have offered since 2014.

This course was presented to the Curriculum Council and A.C.T. has been consulted.

Consideration of this item supports the goals identified within the District’s Strategic Plan.

C. COURSE CONTENT

1. Course Purpose:
   Successful completion of the course is one of many measures used to determine incoming students’ placement in CA State University (CSU) general education English courses; the ERWC is a key component of the CSU’s Graduation Initiative 2025.
2. Course Outline:
The grade 11 Expository Reading and Writing Course (ERWC) engages students in the discovery of who they are as persons, the realization of the ways in which they can participate in society, and their development as critical consumers and effective communicators within society. Teachers and schools build and personalize the yearlong course by selecting from approximately 35 modules (instructional units) to meet rigorous, college preparatory learning goals in reading, writing, listening, and speaking for all students while promoting student interest and motivation. Employing a rhetorical, inquiry-based approach that fosters critical thinking, student agency, and metacognition, the course includes six full-length modules drawn from five categories: 1) American foundational documents; 2) American drama; 3) full-length books; 4) research; and 5) contemporary issues (two modules).

In addition, the course includes five concept mini modules that address transferable skills applicable to conceptual development and practice across all modules, e.g., genre awareness, goal setting and self-assessment, rhetorical situation, Aristotelian appeals. The core structure of all the modules—the Assignment Template—progresses along an “arc” from reading rhetorically (preparing to read, reading purposefully, and questioning the text) to preparing to respond (discovering what you think) to writing rhetorically (composing a draft, revising rhetorically, and editing).

By the end of the course, students will have read a range of literary and nonfiction text genres and produced 10-12 culminating projects, including academic essays, research reports, creative writing and performances, and multimedia presentations, from initial draft to final revision and editing.

3. Key Assignments:
American Foundational Document Module (Category 1)
The four American foundational document module selections include the following: “The Big Breakup: The Declaration of Independence”; “March and the Civil Rights Movement, Then and Now”; “Segregation, Integration, Justice”; and “Speech in America”. Students read and analyze texts such as the Declaration of Independence, the Bill of Rights, Lincoln’s Second Inaugural Address, the Gettysburg Address, or Brown v. Board of Education in conjunction with Websites, videos, a graphic novel (March, Book Three), or other contemporary articles related to the themes of the selected module. In each module, students relate historical American documents to issues of the day and synthesize their understandings to create an argument for the role the Declaration of Independence should have in our society today; what the civil rights movement should look like today; or how best to integrate people of different backgrounds or abilities, or students identify an action to solve a problem in the school, community, or world.

Unit Assignment(s): Sample Assignment from “The Big Breakup: The Declaration of Independence”:
Activity 28: Considering Your Task and Your Rhetorical Situation
What is or should be the role of the Declaration of Independence in our country today? Taking into account the survey your class did in Activity 17, the two articles from the Washington Post, and the text of the Declaration itself, write an essay in which you define the role that the Declaration should have, support why it should have this role, and discuss some concrete things that could be done to achieve it.

There are many different positions that could be taken. One could argue, for example, that the Declaration achieved its purpose at the time, but now that we are a separate country, its job is done. On the other end of the spectrum, one could argue that it expresses the hopes and dreams of our country and should be remembered and consulted by everyone. If the latter is the case, both Gerson and NPR have suggested ways that people might keep the ideas of the Declaration in the forefront of the conversation, though their ideas may not be the best ones. Whatever position you take, support your arguments with words from the Declaration itself, from the discussions you have had in class, and from the two articles. You may also want to consider other sources.

You may find that some of the paragraphs you wrote in doing the activities in the module can be reworked to fit into your essay. Look back through your notes to see if there is material you can use.
a) Students will synthesize their readings and collaborative discussions in order to take a position expressed through an argumentative essay.
b) Written essay.
c) Students will learn to engage in collaborative discussions, synthesize multiple perspectives, analyze writing prompts and their rhetorical situation (audience, occasion, purpose), gather evidence and develop a position, and argue effectively in writing creating a product from initial drafting through final revision and editing using classroom technology, such as Google classroom, as appropriate.

American Drama Module (Category 2)
The two American drama module selections include “The Crucible: A Power Play” and “So What’s New? Zoot Suit and New Dramatic Potentials”. Students read and analyze one of the full length plays and, for The Crucible, a supplementary article and Web sites. Students perform dramatic readings of Zoot Suit and view a performance online. In the culminating task for The Crucible, students consider the core question—How is power used and abused? —and write an essay evaluating a character from the play or write a one-act play featuring a contemporary character of their invention. For Zoot Suit, students write a third act for the play exploring a present-day iteration of one of the play’s characters.

Unit Assignment(s): Sample assignment from “The Crucible: A Power Play”:
Activity 23: Considering Your Task and Your Rhetorical Situation
For the culminating assignment in this module, you will write an essay addressing the core question: How is power used and abused?

Prompt 1
Background: The Crucible presents a series of power plays between characters and groups of different status. Throughout the play, education, title, luck, age, gender, strength, wealth, and social connectedness confer power on individuals. In this essay, you will examine power brokerage—how characters get, use, and maintain power.
Writing Task: Choose a major character from The Crucible and using the French and Raven’s Five Forms of Power article, evaluate how that character assumes, utilizes, and maintains (or loses) power throughout the play. What power bases do they use? How do they use them? How could they have used a different power base to act with more humanity in the story and mitigate, or lessen, the abuse of power by themselves or other characters in the play? Make sure that you refer to your character’s development of power throughout the play. Cite your evidence from at least two acts of the play. Make sure that all your assertions are documented by correctly cited facts (quotes) from your sources and supported with the quote and your rationale. The rationale should backup, or defend, your assertions.

Prompt 2
Writing Task: Arthur Miller wrote The Crucible in response to his concerns about McCarthyism, the practice of making accusations of subversion or treason without proper regard for evidence.
Choose a contemporary group that is currently at risk of suffering from similar abuses of power. Create a character that represents this potentially persecuted group. Write a one-act play featuring this character. Your dramatic arc should demonstrate how humanity could mitigate or fail to combat abusive power.
In selecting your topic, consider the timeliness of your message. What topics or issues are particularly relevant in the current social and historical context? How might your make use of this kairotic moment?
After writing your act, complete a one-page reflection in which you address the following: In your act, what power base(s) did your characters use? How did their actions mitigate the abuses of power? How is your act particularly relevant to our current social and historical context? How are your characters and situations inspired by those of The Crucible?
a) Students will engage in collaborative discussions and conduct a character analysis considering the question at issue in order to take a position expressed through an argumentative essay, OR students will create a character based on a contemporary issue related to themes from The Crucible and write a one-act play.

b) Written essay OR one-act play.

c) From this activity, students will learn to engage in classroom discussions collaboratively, conduct a character analysis, gather evidence from the text, analyze writing prompts and their rhetorical situation (audience, occasion, purpose), develop a position, and argue effectively in writing, OR students will learn to build on the themes of the play to create a character and write a narrative piece. Students learn to create a written product from initial drafting through final revision and editing, using classroom technology, such as Google classroom, as appropriate.

Full-Length Book Module (Category 3)

The four book module selections include the following: the great American novel, The Great Gatsby; the memoir of a young immigrant, The Distance Between Us; the book of linked short stories based on the Vietnam War, The Things They Carried; and the story of learning, persistence, and innovation during the Malawi famine, The Boy Who Harnessed the Wind. Students read and analyze the selected book considering its literary and rhetorical features and questions at issue. Students typically engage in activities for each section of the book—often with a major writing assignment at the conclusion of each. For example, The Great Gatsby module requires students to complete four writing assignments: a letter to Nick Carraway about the social landscape of a student’s own neighborhood, an essay about Gatsby’s true identity, a definitional essay about love, and an essay about how the novel has affected each student’s attitudes toward literature and life.

Unit Assignment(s): Sample assignment from “The Things They Carried and the Power of Story”: You have been analyzing, exploring, and experimenting with the original literary form that Tim O’Brien invented for The Things They Carried. Write a fictionalized version of an event similar to the one you have experienced, using two or more of O’Brien’s writing moves to convey the felt truth of this event (the point you are trying to make). You may want to adopt one of your letters or stories for this purpose—or choose another memory from your backpack. If you would prefer, you can reimagine an event from the life of someone you know, such as a parent or grandparent. Simulate O’Brien’s approaches, but make this narrative your own. You might create a fictional protagonist who shares your name and write a narrative and descriptive passage about what “you” see and think and do, or you can create two or more versions of this same event that are told from multiple perspectives or with differing styles. Be sure to at least use the following two O’Brienesque techniques in your story:

1. A central indelible (unforgettable) image or moment that conveys the strongest core of the memory or the truth of the story. This image should be revisited several times and be told with variations. See the following stories for models of a repeated central image:
   - “The Things They Carried” (death of Ted Lavender)
   - “How to Tell a True War Story” (death of Curt Lemon)
   - “The Man I Killed“ / “Ambush” / “Good Form” (the killing of the “man”)
   - The “field stories in readings 6 and 7 (the death of Kiowa)
2. Repetition of the exact same phrasing or words. This could be combined with the central image, as O’Brien does in describing “the man [he] killed”.
   a) Students will reflect on classroom discussions and the stories read in the book and create their own narrative of an event.
   b) Written narrative
   c) Students will learn to analyze literary text and incorporate imagery and effective diction in their own narrative writing, using classroom technology, such as Google classroom, as appropriate.
Research Module (Category 4)
The two research module selections include “Service and Sacrifice” and “Daily Challenge: Mental Illness in Our Lives”. For the first, students read the full-length work, Claudette Colvin: Twice Toward Justice, and then conduct primary and secondary research on a community change movement of their choosing. They consider how change occurs and explore how to tell the story of a movement in their culminating task. For the second, students investigate issues surrounding Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD) and other mental illnesses. They read and analyze a newspaper account of a veteran with PTSD and then research a mental illness in order to write and perform a public service announcement.

Unit Assignment(s): Sample assignment from “Service and Sacrifice”:

Activity 16: Considering Your Task and Your Rhetorical Situation

Project Overview: We have been reading about Claudette Colvin and the role she played in desegregating buses in Montgomery, AL, and in the nation. Our discussions of the book focused on her role in supporting this change, the risks and rewards of her actions, and the overall trajectory and kairos that are a part of such major social change. We also compared these events with other community change events. The point of this reading and these discussions is for us to consider what role we play in our communities in making change, and for us to consider the very important notion of the relationship between risk and reward in community action contexts.

Prompt 1: For this writing project assignment, building from Activity 14, you will analyze how change happens socially and rhetorically in communities. Drawing on the book about Colvin, as well as at least one other community change event (locally or nationally), highlight the important moments that led toward change for the residents of Montgomery as well as what moments led the people of another movement to make change and compare how moments in both situations created opportunities for change. Be sure to focus not only on events, but also the timing of those events, the genres of the events (for example, community meetings, speeches, flyers announcing events, maps of pick up and drop off locations, schedules and maps for people who needed rides, legal documents, books or articles that report on the event in the aftermath, etc.), the audience and purpose of people taking action, the opportunities that people took to take action, and the social factors that contributed to how events unfolded (for example, laws like Jim Crow that set the stage for activism). You also need to include multimedia elements as a way to enhance the meaning and analysis of your reflection. The point of this writing is to reflect with evidence, both textual and multimedia, about what it means and what it takes to make meaningful and large-scale social change.

Prompt 2: For this writing project assignment, building from Activity 14, choose an action that happened in your local or national community that should be documented and told. Interview knowledgeable residents of your community. Search local newspapers for information about how that story unfolded. Visit a local historical society or museum to brainstorm ideas or to find artifacts (that you can photograph and include in your text). Drawing on your experience reading about Colvin and the Montgomery Bus Boycott, use similar writerly practices and genre elements as Hoose used in his book to tell your own community’s story.

For both writing projects, you need to include at least five sources, which must include at least one primary, one secondary (the texts we read in class or that you read for homework can be counted toward these four), and one multimedia. Works cited need to be in MLA or APA format.

- Students will build on classroom discussions and other activities to research an issue either through secondary sources (prompt 1) or primary sources (prompt 2) in answer to the questions posed and develop a coherent written analysis.
- Written report
- Students will learn to research an issue either through secondary sources (prompt 1) or primary sources (prompt 2) in answer to the questions posed, synthesize and document sources, and present a coherent written analysis, using classroom technology, such as Google classroom, as appropriate.

Issue Module (Category 5)
The 14 issue module selections include the following: “Chance Me: Redefining Merit”; “Changing Minds: Thinking About Immigration”; “Civil Disobedience From Thoreau to Present”; “The Danger (and Power) of a Single Story”; “Generation to Generation: Learning from Each Other”; “A Headache Becomes a Death Sentence: The NFL’s Arguments on the Concussion Crisis”; “Human Impact on Climate”; “Nonconformity: Yay or Nay?”; “Poetry is Among Us”; “Racin’ America”; “The Really Big One” (about earthquakes or other natural disasters); “Rhetoric of the Op-Ed Page”; “Teenage Sleepers”; and “What’s Next? Thinking About Life After High School”. Teachers and schools select at least two issue modules to teach. Based on the modules selected from the other categories, teachers and schools consider the balance of text genres, writing assignment types (argumentative, informative, narrative), opportunities for multimedia and oral presentations, assignment length, state standards addressed, and students’ needs and interests in order to select the most appropriate issue modules. All modules include extensive collaboration and discussion, examination of vocabulary, text based critical thinking questions, and analysis of rhetorical effects.

Many of the issue modules engage students in using technology to identify additional sources of information and most offer choices of issues and assignments that students explore beyond the initial readings and assigned activities.

Unit Assignment(s): Sample assignment from “Changing Minds: Thinking About Immigration”:

Activity 20: Considering Your Task and Your Rhetorical Situation
Read the writing assignments for this module and make notes in response to the questions below:

Academic Essay

Prompt 1: Changing Other People’s Minds
What can we learn from Ropeik and Machado in order to try to change the minds of people who “hold tenaciously” to myths about immigration?

Write an essay to be posted on a Website for people interested in issues of changing minds about immigration such as the ADL Website. Make an argument about how to go about changing peoples’ minds on controversial topics like immigration. Use evidence from Ropeik’s and Machado’s articles, from “Myth and Facts About Immigrants and Immigration”, and your own observations and/or reading.

Make clear whose ideas or words you are using by including the author’s names and titles of the articles. You do not need to include in-text citations (page numbers) or a reference list. If you wish to cite discussions in class, do not use the names of your fellow students.

Prompt 2: Changing My Mind
As a high school student, you may be an immigrant, from a family that includes immigrants or be surrounded by immigrants and the children of immigrants. You are inundated with information and misinformation about immigration.

Write an essay to be published in your school newspaper about how your own views about immigration have evolved in response to new information and experiences. Use evidence from both Ropeik’s and Machado’s articles and from “Myth and Facts About Immigrants and Immigration” to explain the stages in the evolution of your thinking and to argue for your current view about immigration.

You must make clear whose ideas or words you are using by including the author’s names and titles of the articles. You do not need to include in-text citations (page numbers) or a reference list. If you wish to cite discussions in class, do not use the names of your fellow students.

To prepare to write, take notes on your responses to the following questions:

- Now that you have read the texts for this module, what is your position about what it takes to change someone’s mind on a controversial topic like immigration?
- What will your purpose be in writing this essay?
- Who will read your essay? How will you take into account your readers’ knowledge, values, and assumptions? How will you engage in civil discourse and be respectful of alternative viewpoints?
- How will you develop your own credibility as someone knowledgeable on the subject of opinion formation and immigration at this time in our country’s history?
How will you balance your appeal to your readers’ emotions with your need to provide sound factual information about immigration?

a) Students synthesize their readings and discussions to address the final writing prompt. Both prompts ask students to develop an argument.

b) Argumentative writing for a Web posting or school newspaper.

c) Students will learn to synthesize multiple perspectives, analyze writing prompts and their rhetorical situation (audience, occasion, purpose), gather evidence and develop a position, and create a written product from initial drafting through final revision and editing, using classroom technology, such as Google classroom, as appropriate.

Sample assignment from “The Danger (and Power) of a Single Story”:

Activity 22: Considering Your Task and Your Rhetorical Situation

After you listen to your teacher read the prompt, reread it and circle any unfamiliar words. Annotate the prompt with numbers indicating the steps you need to complete. Your class will work together to create a list of strategies to achieve each step.

Prompt 1: What is a dangerously narrow single story from a community you know? Perhaps it’s one you believed until you learned more about the people involved, or maybe it’s a single story some people believe about you or your family. Develop a narrative (fiction or nonfiction) to help complicate this simplistic belief for a specific audience. If your narrative focuses on a community different from your own, position yourself as an ally rather than co-opting the perspective you’ve selected. Anticipate your audience’s needs by selecting a medium, genre, and style that will invite interest and empathy.

Prompt 2: In her TED Talk “The Danger of a Single Story,” author Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie argues that stories have great power, both “to dispossess and to malign,” and “to empower and to humanize”. Choose a story from this module and decide whether, in its craft and appeal to a specific audience, it has achieved the power Adichie describes. Has it complicated a single story for an audience that previously held a simplistic view? Does it fall short by appealing only to audiences already familiar with the complex subject? Or does it wield a darker power, reinforcing a stereotype or maligning a marginalized community? Using specific evidence from Adichie’s speech, your analysis of the short story, and your investigation of the story’s intended audience, create an argument to convince your classmates and teacher that the story you select should be upheld as an example of literary social justice or rejected due to its limited appeal or purpose.

a) Students synthesize their readings and discussions to address their choice of final writing prompt. One prompt asks students to create a narrative, and the other asks them to develop an argument.

b) Narrative story based on the issues addressed in the module or an argumentative essay to be presented to the class.

c) Students will learn to synthesize multiple perspectives, analyze writing prompts and their rhetorical situation (audience, occasion, purpose), gather evidence and develop a position, and create a written product from initial drafting through final revision and editing, using classroom technology, such as Google classroom, as appropriate.

Concept Mini-Module (Category 6)

The nine-concept mini-module selections include the following: “Introducing ERWC 11: Reflecting on Learning and Using Portfolios”; “Introducing the Rhetorical Situation”; “Three Ways to Persuade”; “Email, Text, or Call? Learning to Write through Genre Awareness”; “Becoming Assessment Savvy”; “Learning for Fun and Future”; “The Classical Pattern of Persuasion”; “The Toulmin Model of Argumentation”; and “Final Reflection on Learning: The ERWC 11 Portfolio.” These mini modules take a few days to a week or two to teach and address many key or foundational concepts to ERWC. They focus on ideas considered threshold concepts for the course that will be used in most modules as well as in other disciplines. The most critical of these are the rhetorical situation (audience, purpose, occasion); Aristotelian rhetorical appeals (ethos, pathos, and logos); metacognition; and transfer of learning. The concluding mini-module, “Final Reflection on Learning”, provides opportunities for students to look back on the year’s learning and review what they’ve discovered and aspects of their reading, writing, listening, and speaking that may call for further development as they prepare for college and careers. Both the introductory and concluding portfolio mini modules directly address elements of Universal Design for Learning, including goal setting, formative assessment, student self-assessment, and metacognition.

Unit Assignment(s): Sample assignment from “Learning for Fun and Future”:

Activity 4: Considering Your Task and Your Rhetorical Situation

The writing task for this module is to write a letter to another student in your class, using your understanding of detect, elect, and connect to suggest how your colleague can apply skills they are learning in their English class to one of their other classes. In this case, you will be doing the work of detecting for your colleague, and you will suggest ways that they can make connections between classes, but it will be up to them to elect to follow your advice, so make it convincing.

In order to make your advice convincing and helpful, you will need to interview your colleague to gather information and consider the connections you can help them make. They may be more inclined to use your advice if the class you suggest they apply their English skills in is one they especially enjoy or perhaps is one in which they struggle. Here are some questions you might ask to get you started. You will probably need to ask more to get all of the information you need. Make sure you take careful notes of your interview.

- What classes are you taking other than English?
- Which subject do you find the most interesting and enjoyable?
- In which class do you struggle the most?
- What kinds of reading do you do in your class?
- What kinds of writing do you do in your class?
- What other kinds of activities do you do?

Because you want to be helpful to your colleague, try to use your imagination to look for unexpected ways they might use English skills to deepen their learning in whichever class you choose to advise them about.

a) Students interview their classmates and write a persuasive letter suggesting how they can transfer what they learn in English to other settings.

b) Written letter.

c) Students will learn to synthesize what they have learned about transfer and apply it to a classmate’s own situation by writing a letter of advice. They will learn to analyze their rhetorical situation (audience, purpose, occasion) to write the most effective letter, using classroom technology, such as Google classroom, as appropriate.

Sample assignment from “Three Ways to Persuade”:

Activity 8: Considering Your Task and Your Rhetorical Situation

Consider the following quotations from Aristotle in defense of rhetoric:

1. Rhetoric is useful because the true and the just are by nature stronger than their opposites and if judgments are not made in the right way, the true and the just will be defeated by their opposites.

2. Even if we were to have the most exact knowledge, it would not be easy for us in speaking to use it to persuade some audiences. Speech based on knowledge is teaching, but teaching is impossible with some audiences; rather it is necessary for . . . speeches as a whole to be formed on the basis of common beliefs.

3. It would be strange if an inability to defend oneself by means of the body [such as by learning boxing] is shameful, while there is no shame in an inability to use speech.

4. If it is argued that great harm can be done by unjustly using such power of words, this objection applies to all good things except virtue, and most of all useful things like strength, health, wealth, and military strategy; for by using these justly one would do the greatest good, and unjustly, the greatest harm. (Kennedy 34-35)

We have a saying, “The facts speak for themselves”. In quotation number 1, Aristotle is saying that sometimes the facts need a little help from rhetoric. Taking this quote and the other three into account, does Aristotle make a good case that we should study and use rhetoric? Or is the use of rhetoric, especially ethos and pathos, deceptive and bad? Write a short essay in which you take a position on the use of rhetoric and analyze the four quotations from Aristotle.

a) Students reflect on classroom discussions and other activities to write an essay taking a position on the use of rhetoric.

b) Written essay.

c) Students will learn to synthesize what they have learned about Aristotelian appeals and consider Aristotle's view in writing a short argumentative essay, using classroom technology, such as Google classroom, as appropriate.

SUBJECT: REVISION OF JAPANESE 3 HONORS COURSE

BACKGROUND

The Chino Valley Unified School District routinely revises curriculum guides and develops new courses in accordance with State Content Standards, State Frameworks, and student need. Accordingly, the revision and development of curriculum guides are the results of a collaborative effort of teachers in the related academic areas.

Japanese 3 Honors is a year-long World Language elective course aligned with the five goal areas specified by the National World Language Standards. This course revision reflects the addition of the most recent California’s World Language Standards for grades K-12, the District’s new template for course descriptions, as well as submission to the University of California A-G Course Management Portal for honors consideration. This course meets the UC/CSU ‘e’ requirement, Level 3 Language Other Than English.

This course was presented to the Curriculum Council and A.C.T. has been consulted.

Consideration of this item supports the goals identified within the District’s Strategic Plan.

13. Brief Course Description:
JAPANESE 3 HONORS IS AN INTERMEDIATE-HIGH COURSE DESIGNED TO FURTHER DEVELOP STUDENTS’ COMMUNICATIVE COMPETENCE IN THE FOUR LANGUAGE SKILLS (LISTENING, SPEAKING, READING, WRITING) THROUGH THE EXPLORATION OF CHALLENGING LEVEL-APPROPRIATE TOPICS. IN ADDITION, THE COURSE WILL FOCUS ON THE JAPANESE LANGUAGE PROFICIENCY EXAM (JLPT) AND PRE-AP JAPANESE STUDENTS. AFTER HAVING SUCCESSFULLY COMPLETED JAPANESE 1 AND 2, STUDENTS IN THE JAPANESE 3 HONORS COURSE WILL DELVE DEEPER INTO THE INTRICACIES OF THE JAPANESE HEART AND SOUL THROUGH CONTENT-BASED THEMES. BUILDING ON THE CONTENT OF THE REGULAR JAPANESE COURSES, THE JAPANESE 3 HONORS BEGINS WITH A REVIEW OF EARLIER COURSES, THEN MOVES ON TO WHAT IT IS LIKE TO LIVE AND EXPERIENCE JAPANESE CULTURE AND LANGUAGE IN JAPAN AS A FIRST TIME VISITOR. BEGINNING WITH LIFE IN JAPANESE HIGH SCHOOLS, THE COURSE CONTINUES ON TO DISCUSS JAPANESE LANGUAGE STUDIES, WRITE LETTERS TO JAPANESE STUDENTS IN JAPAN, NAVIGATE THROUGH THE POP CULTURE OF MUSIC, COMICS AND CARTOONS, THE TOKYO TRANSPORTATION SYSTEM, AND A MORE IN-DEPTH STUDY OF JAPANESE FOOD BASED ON THE VARIOUS REGIONS OF JAPAN. THESE AREAS WILL BE EXPLORED USING THE GENERAL GOALS IN THE NATIONAL STANDARDS FOR FOREIGN LANGUAGE.

The curriculum included in this document is generic to the modern languages. The modern language standards are meant to be inclusive of all languages and are not written for any specific language, however, all languages are different and have different vocabulary, syntactic structures, sound systems, writing systems, and represent different cultures. The standards for foreign language are aligned with the five goal areas specified by the National Foreign Language Standards as follows: communication, cultures, connections, comparisons, and communities. There are a total of eleven (11) standards. These standards are general in nature and apply to all levels of foreign language instruction. For each of the eleven standards, there are specific objectives that define what students should know and be able to do upon completion of a particular level of instruction. In addition, performance indicators, or examples of student performance and appropriate classroom activities, are provided for many of the objectives.

C. COURSE CONTENT

1. Course Purpose:
   THE PURPOSE OF JAPANESE 3 HONORS IS TO PROVIDE AN ACCELERATED PACE AND RIGOR IN CURRICULUM FOR STUDENTS INTENDING TO CONTINUE TO ADVANCE PLACEMENT (AP) JAPANESE.

2. Course Outline:
   FOR EACH UNIT, STUDENTS LISTEN TO NATIVE SPEAKER CONVERSATIONS USED IN DAILY CONVERSATIONS, THEME-BASED VOCABULARY AND APPROPRIATE STRUCTURES BASED ON THE THEMES. STUDENTS PARTICIPATE IN ACTIVITIES SUCH AS KAHOOT, QUIZLET, SOCRATIVE, KARUTA, RUNNING DICTATION, AND RESPOND TO TEACHER-LED TEACHING PROFICIENCY THROUGH READING AND STORYTELLING (TPRS) MINI-STORIES INCORPORATING VOCABULARY AND GRAMMAR, FOLLOWED BY COMMUNICATIVE ACTIVITIES WITH A PARTNER WHERE THE TEACHER ONLY OBSERVES AND CORRECTS AS NEEDED. THERE WILL BE A TOTAL OF FIFTY HIGH-FREQUENCY CONVERSATIONS THAT STUDENTS WILL STUDY THROUGHOUT THE YEAR.

NEW KANJI CHARACTERS ARE INTRODUCED IN EACH UNIT. STUDENTS WILL ALSO USE PADLET AS A COLLABORATION TOOL TO FURTHER STUDY KANJI, SHORT STORIES AND CONVERSATIONS FOR EACH UNIT. STUDENTS WILL ALSO PERFORM DIALOGUES IN SKITS WITH A GROUP, AND COMPLETE READING (STORIES) AND WRITING (STORIES) ASSESSMENTS BASED ON UNIT CONTENT.

THE PRIMARY TEXTBOOK WILL BE A COLLEGE-BASED TEXTBOOK: GENKI II, AS WELL AS WEB-BASED CONTENT SUCH AS ERIN’S CHALLENGE (LANGUAGE AND CULTURE), NHK WEB EASY (CURRENT EVENTS, LOCAL NEWS, WEATHER AND PUBLIC SAFETY AND COMMUNITY SERVICES), SATORI READER (SHORT STORIES AND IN-DEPTH INTERVIEWS ON A VARIETY OF TOPICS) AND MEGURO LANGUAGE CENTER (LANGUAGE LEARNING SUPPORT, DAILY CONVERSATIONS, JLPT N5 TO N1 RESOURCES). STUDENTS MUST ACCESS THE INTERNET TO SEARCH FOR TRAVEL ITINERARY, LOCAL WEATHER, CURRENT WORLD EVENTS, LOCAL NEWS, EARTHQUAKE PREPAREDNESS, COMMUNITY SERVICES, LIVING ACCOMMODATIONS, CHECK HOTELS FOR ROOM AVAILABILITY, AND READ EMAILS IN THE TARGET LANGUAGE.

THE PRIMARY GOAL OF THE JAPANESE 3 HONORS COURSE IS TO FURTHER DEVELOP STUDENTS’ PROFICIENCY ACROSS THREE MODES OF COMMUNICATION: INTERPRETATIVE, INTERPERSONAL, AND PRESENTATIONAL; AS WELL AS THE NATIONAL STANDARDS’ FIVE GOAL AREAS: COMMUNICATION, CULTURES, CONNECTIONS, COMPARISONS, AND COMMUNITIES. STUDENTS’ PROFICIENCY LEVELS ARE EXPECTED TO REACH THE INTERMEDIATE-MID TO INTERMEDIATE-HIGH RANGE, AS DESCRIBED IN THE AMERICAN COUNCIL ON THE TEACHING OF FOREIGN LANGUAGES (ACTFL).

INTERPRETIVE MODE:
STUDENTS WORK WITH VARIOUS AUTHENTIC AND SEMI-AUTHENTIC MATERIALS (E.G. HOTEL WEBSITES, NEWS BROADCASTS) THAT ARE USUALLY INTENDED FOR NATIVE JAPANESE SPEAKERS.

INTERPERSONAL MODE:
CHARACTERIZED BY SPOKEN OR WRITTEN COMMUNICATION AMONG INDIVIDUALS WHICH ALLOWS FOR ACTIVE EXPRESSION, CLARIFICATION, AND UNDERSTANDING OF MEANING.

PRESENTATIONAL MODE:
STUDENTS MUST MAKE FREQUENT ORAL PRESENTATIONS WHICH ARE EXPLICITLY LINKED TO THE CONTENT OF EACH UNIT. WRITTEN PRESENTATIONS INCLUDE WRITING A RESEARCH-BASED ESSAY ABOUT JAPANESE HIGH SCHOOL LIFE ON COMPOSITION PAPER.

JAPANESE 3 HONORS IS TAUGHT ALMOST EXCLUSIVELY IN THE TARGET LANGUAGE. AS PART OF THEIR JAPANESE USAGE ASSESSMENT, STUDENTS ARE EXPECTED TO USE THE TARGET LANGUAGE TO SEEK CLARIFICATION, EXCHANGE INFORMATION, AND CONVEY IDEAS. IN ADDITION TO THE KANJI THAT ARE INTRODUCED IN GENKI II TEXTBOOK, JAPANESE 3 HONORS STUDENTS ARE REQUIRED TO KNOW THE READING AND ENGLISH MEANING OF THE PREVIOUS KANJI LEARNED IN JAPANESE 1 AND 2. THE RIGOROUS ACADEMIC CURRICULUM IS DESIGNED TO BE NEAR EQUIVALENT TO THAT OF A COLLEGE COURSE AND PROVIDE STUDENTS WITH THE SKILLS NECESSARY TO SUCCEED IN THE FOLLOWING YEAR’S AP JAPANESE COURSE.

COMPREHENSIVE FINAL EXAM EACH SEMESTER ASSESSING KNOWLEDGE AND SKILLS GAINED DURING THE ENTIRE SEMESTER. EACH EXAM WILL CONTAIN THE FOLLOWING:

• 100 MULTIPLE CHOICE QUESTIONS SCORED USING A SCANTRON.
• 15 Kanji questions where students write the underlined words in Kanji using one space per Kanji character.
• Essay: Students write a 3 - 5 paragraph essay in Japanese on any topic of their choice from a theme during the semester

The readings introduce Japanese as it is used in a variety of areas ranging from letters and fables to essays and advertisements. They assume knowledge of the vocabulary and grammar that the student has encountered in the lesson. With each lesson, the readings becoming more challenging than the previous readings. New words in the readings are listed in the order in which they appear. After each practice section, topics will be given for students to write on. Audio recordings for all sections are available through the publisher and will aid students throughout each lesson and unit.

UNIT 13: LOOKING FOR A PART-TIME JOB/EMPLOYMENT

The unit starts with multiple conversations following an individual named John who read a classified ad for a part time job at a restaurant and has contacted the restaurant manager to inquire if the position is available, ask for a possible interview date and time and confirm the appointment. The second conversation continues to follow John with the manager at this point, with questions about why John is interested in the position, what languages he can speak and if he has any experience in the restaurant business. Finally, John sees his professor and is being asked questions about the number of days he works per week and recommendations that John might have about the restaurant.

UNIT 15: A TRIP TO NAGANO/TOYKO-TRAVEL

AN ESSENTIAL MOTIVATION FOR STUDYING JAPANESE LANGUAGE IS TO GAIN THE KNOWLEDGE AND SKILLS TO TRAVEL AROUND JAPAN. THIS UNIT IS DESIGNED SO THAT STUDENTS WILL BECOME PREPARED TRAVELERS IN JAPAN AND NAMELY, TOKYO, THE CAPITAL OF JAPAN. THE THEMATIC UNIT IS SPLIT INTO TWO INSTRUCTIONAL PLANS: 1) TRAVEL AND TRANSPORTATION, AND 2) TOKYO TRIP. FIRST, STUDENTS WILL FAMILIARIZE THEMSELVES WITH JAPAN RAILWAYS MAJOR TRAIN LINES (E.G. YAMANOTE-SEN), AS WELL AS THE SUBWAYS WHICH MAKE UP TOKYO’S COMPLEX PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION SYSTEM. NEXT, THEY WILL COMPARE THAT TO OTHER MODES OF TRANSPORTATION (E.G. TOUR BUS, BULLET TRAIN). STUDENTS WILL ALSO LEARN MEANINGFUL SKILLS SUCH AS HOW TO READ TIMETABLES AND COMPARE DIFFERENT TYPES OF LODGING. FOR THE TOKYO-FOCUSED LESSONS, STUDENTS WILL USE THE INTERNET TO RESEARCH FAMOUS DISTRICTS IN TOKYO AND FIND OUT WHAT EACH AREA IS FAMOUS FOR. THROUGHOUT THE UNIT, STUDENTS WILL FREQUENTLY VIEW (E.G. TOKYO HOTEL WEBSITE; TRAIN TIMETABLE) OR LISTEN TO (E.G. RECORDED TRAIN ANNOUNCEMENT) AUTHENTIC MATERIALS THAT ARE INTENDED FOR NATIVE JAPANESE SPEAKERS. THE CLASS WILL ALSO EXAMINE HOW RESPECT FOR CUSTOMERS IS MANIFESTED IN THE USAGE OF POLITE HONORIFIC SPEECH IN PUBLIC ANNOUNCEMENTS. THROUGH THIS AS WELL AS OTHER UNITS, LEARNERS WILL BE BETTER ABLE TO COMPREHEND RICH VOCABULARY AND COMPLEX STRUCTURES, WHICH WILL PREPARE THEM FOR THE AP JAPANESE COURSE.

TRAVELING TO NAGANO

STUDENTS WILL TAKE ON THE ROLE OF A TRAVEL AGENT, FOREIGN EXCHANGE STUDENT OR TOURIST TRAVELING THROUGH JAPAN. STUDENTS WILL HAVE TO CREATE VISUAL AIDS OR PROPS FOR THE SKIT AND USE THEIR LINGUISTIC SKILLS AND CULTURAL KNOWLEDGE TO PREPARE A FINAL PRESENTATION IN BOTH ORAL AND WRITTEN FORMAT.

SUPPLEMENTAL: TRAVELING TO TOKYO

UNIT ASSIGNMENT(S):

- SUMMATIVE INTERPRETIVE ASSESSMENT: STUDENTS WILL LISTEN TO 50 HIGH FREQUENCY CONVERSATIONS THROUGHOUT THE YEAR FROM GENKI II, MEGURO LANGUAGE CENTER AND ERIN’S CHALLENGE. LEARNERS WILL DEVELOP STRATEGIES FOR UNDERSTANDING THE GIST OF WHAT THEY LISTEN TO AND IDENTIFY KEY WORDS. AS PART OF THIS STUDY, THE TRAVEL UNIT WILL INCORPORATE THESE CONVERSATIONS AS A TEMPLATE FOR INDIVIDUAL STUDENT PRODUCTION.

- SUMMATIVE INTERPERSONAL ASSESSMENT: USING AN AUTHENTIC MATERIAL, STUDENTS WILL WORK IN PAIRS TO NAVIGATE TRAVELING THROUGH JAPAN AND THE APPROPRIATE USE OF THE LANGUAGE WHEN DEALING WITH TRAVEL. STUDENTS WILL BE GIVEN SELECTED SITUATIONS TO COMMUNICATE THEIR NEEDS DURING TRAVEL; HOTEL, TRAIN TIMES AND DEPARTING PLATFORMS, CITY STREETS AND LOCATING SPECIFIC DISTRICTS WITH SPECIFIED AREAS OF TOKYO.

WRITING IS AN IMPORTANT COMPONENT OF THE AP JAPANESE LANGUAGE EXAM, MAKING IT ESSENTIAL TO DEVELOP STUDENTS’ ABILITY TO ORGANIZE WORDS ONTO PAPER. UNIT 3 INTRODUCES THE ART OF WRITING FORMAL LETTERS IN JAPANESE. STUDENTS WILL LEARN THE PROPER FORMAT THAT MUST BE FOLLOWED WHEN WRITING A TRADITIONAL LETTER, SUCH AS THE REQUISITE SET EXPRESSIONS FOR THE OPENING AND CLOSING GREETINGS. BY LEARNING ABOUT THE PRELIMINARY GREETINGS THAT OFTEN REFERENCE THE CURRENT SEASON OR CLIMATE, STUDENTS WILL GAIN AN APPRECIATION OF THE IMPORTANT ROLE OF NATURE IN JAPANESE LIFE. ONGOING: THE STUDY OF KANJI OVERVIEW

THIS WILL BE AN ONGOING STUDY THROUGHOUT THE YEAR WITH THE FOCUS PLACED PRIMARILY ON KANJI - THE CHINESE CHARACTERS THAT COMPRISE ONE OF THE THREE JAPANESE WRITING SYSTEMS. FIRST, STUDENTS WILL LEARN THE HISTORY AND BACKGROUND OF KANJI, WHICH WAS ORIGINALLY BORROWED FROM THE CHINESE WRITING SYSTEM. KANJI CAN BE CLASSIFIED INTO ONE OF FOUR TYPES: SHOKEIMOJI (PICTOGRAPHS), SHIJIMOJI (ABSTRACT CONCEPTS), KAIIMOJI (COMPOUND IDEOGRAPHS), OR KEISEIMOJI (COMPOUND IDEOGRAMS). STUDENTS WILL LEARN THE IMPORTANCE OF BUSHU, THE RADICALS WHICH ARE THE MAIN IDENTIFYING COMPONENTS OF EACH KANJI CHARACTER. AFTER GETTING PRACTICE IN IDENTIFYING AND DECIPHERING THE MEANING OF BUSHU, STUDENTS WILL GAIN HANDS-ON EXPERIENCE IN USING DIFFERENT TYPES OF KANJI DICTIONARIES. TO LOOK UP AN UNFAMILIAR CHARACTER IN A KANJI DICTIONARY, STUDENTS MUST BE ABLE TO IDENTIFY THE CHARACTER’S OF BUSHU, COUNT THE NUMBER OF STROKES IN THAT BUSHU, AND COUNT THE REMAINING NUMBER OF STROKES IN THAT CHARACTER. WITH A SOLID KNOWLEDGE OF THE CONSTRUCTION OF KANJI, STUDENTS CAN LOOK UP ANY KANJI IN A KANJI DICTIONARY AND LEARN THE JAPANESE READING, CHINESE READING, AND ENGLISH MEANING OF NEW CHARACTERS.
UNIT ASSIGNMENT(S):

- SUMMATIVE INTERPRETIVE ASSESSMENT: STUDENTS WILL VIEW A LIST OF KANJI THAT SHARE A COMMON RADICAL (E.G. SANZUI-HEN: 海, 汗, 浴; ONNA-HEN: 妹, 姊, 好) AND TRY TO DECIPHER THE MEANING OF THAT RADICAL - BASED ON THE COMMON MEANING THAT THOSE CHARACTERS MAY SHARE (E.G. WATER, FEMALE).

- SUMMATIVE INTERPERSONAL ASSESSMENT: WORKING IN PAIRS, STUDENTS WILL LOOK UP UNFAMILIAR CHARACTERS USING DIFFERENT TYPES OF KANJI DICTIONARIES (E.G. JISHO.ORG, YOSIDAINSTITUTE.ORG). AS THEY IDENTIFY BUSHU AND COUNT STROKES OF CHARACTERS, THEY WILL COMPARE THE TYPES OF DICTIONARIES AND STATE THEIR PREFERENCE. THEY WILL WORK TOGETHER TO READ CURRENT EVENTS, LOCAL NEWS AND EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS ARTICLES ON THE NHK WORLD EASY WEBSITE.

- SUMMATIVE PRESENTATIONAL ASSESSMENT: STUDENTS WILL CHOOSE A KANJI CHARACTER THAT THEY HAVE NOT LEARNED AND MAKE A PRESENTATION TO THE CLASS ABOUT ITS HISTORICAL BACKGROUND, DEVELOPMENT, MEANING OF THE RADICAL, AND CREATE A MNEMONIC WHICH REPRESENTS A WAY TO BETTER MEMORIZE THAT CHARACTER.

ONGOING: ENTERTAINMENT OVERVIEW

NEXT, THE UNIT’S FOCUS WILL SHIFT TO MODERN ENTERTAINMENT AND JAPANESE YOUTH’S CHANGING ATTITUDES. STUDENTS WILL LEARN TO IDENTIFY DIFFERENT GENRES OF CONTEMPORARY JAPANESE MUSIC, INCLUDING J-POP, VOCALOID MUSIC, AND ENKA. THEY WILL WATCH CLIPS OF THE ANNUAL EVENT ON TV CALLED “KOHAKU UTA GASSEN (THE RED AND WHITE SONG CONTEST), WHICH FEATURES SINGERS AND GROUPS OF ALL TYPES OF MUSICAL GENRES. ALONG WITH OTHER TRENDS IN JAPAN, STUDENTS WILL ALSO ENGAGE IN AN ANALYSIS OF PERSPECTIVES RELATED TO THE PRODUCTS BEING STUDIED, SUCH AS THE UBQIQUITY OF SMARTPHONES. BY THE END OF THIS UNIT, STUDENTS WILL HAVE EXPANDED THEIR COMMUNICATIVE ABILITY AND BE ABLE TO DESCRIBE PEOPLE’S PERSONALITIES WITH DETAIL, REPORT INFORMATION LEARNED THROUGH HEARSAY, AND CONCURRENT ACTIVITIES.

UNIT ASSIGNMENT(S):

STUDENTS WILL LEARN ABOUT THE HISTORY AND EVOLUTION OF THE BENTO, SUCH AS HOW THE MEAL IS A REFLECTION OF NATURE (I.E. ASYMMETRICAL; INGREDIENTS FROM THE MOUNTAIN AND SEA), AND DIFFERENT TYPES OF BENTO (E.G. EKIBEN, KYARABEN). BY THE END OF THIS UNIT, STUDENTS WILL BE ABLE TO DESCRIBE THEIR INTENTIONS AND MAKE STATEMENTS ABOUT SOMETHING THAT APPEARS TO BE TRUE IN JAPANESE.

UNIT ASSIGNMENT(S):

• SUMMATIVE INTERPRETIVE ASSESSMENT: STUDENTS WILL LOOK OVER AUTHENTIC MATERIALS SUCH AS THE LIST OF INGREDIENTS OR DATE OF EXPIRATION LABELS THAT ARE ON A JAPANESE BENTO. THEY WILL RESEARCH ONLINE RECIPES FOR JAPANESE DISHES AND DEMONSTRATE AN UNDERSTANDING OF THE STEPS NECESSARY TO MAKE THEM.

• SUMMATIVE PRESENTATIONAL ASSESSMENT: STUDENTS WILL WORK WITH A PARTNER TO PLAN OUT AND COOK A COMPLETE BENTO LUNCH. FIRST, THEY MUST PLAN OUT THE BENTO, TAKING INTO CONSIDERATION THE ELEMENTS THAT THEY NEED TO INCLUDE, THE EASE OF PREPARATION, COST, AND THE NECESSARY INGREDIENTS. THEY WILL THEN DRAW A PRELIMINARY SKETCH, INCLUDING THE UTENSILS, CONTAINERS, AND GARNISHES THEY WILL USE. ON PRESENTATION DAY, EACH PAIR WILL BRING IN AND SHOW THE BENTO THAT THEY HAVE CREATED. USING ONLY THE TARGET LANGUAGE, THEY WILL STATE THE ITEMS IN THEIR PORTABLE LUNCH AND THE VARIOUS COOKING METHODS (E.G. GRILLED, BOILED) THAT THEY USED. AFTER THE PRESENTATIONS ARE DONE, STUDENTS CAN EAT THEIR BENTO.

Stages of Learning

For each level of instruction, stages of learning are indicated. There are three stages of learning: beginning, developing, and expanding. The learning stages represent a continuum of development, reflecting the diversity and idiosyncratic nature of individual student learning, as opposed to levels of instruction, defined by years or semesters of classroom instruction. Each learning stage may require more than one level of instruction, depending on various factors such as student ability, classroom instruction, diversity of scheduling, and other variables affecting student learning. The beginning stage commences in Level I and may carry over into Level II. The developing stage may begin in Level II and generally includes Level III, perhaps extending into Level IV. The expanding stage will usually incorporate instruction initiated in Level IV and possibly continue through Level VI.

Beginning Stage — Students can communicate with memorized phrases and words. Expressing basic wants and needs is accomplished with simple statements such as “I would like to go to the movies.”

Developing Stage — Students are not only able to express basic wants and needs, but can also elaborate on them. For example, “I would like to go to the movies, but I don’t have any money because I spent it all on CDs yesterday.”

Expanding Stage — Students are able to communicate in more complex and involved situations, can respond to problems, and can resolve those problems using the foreign language. For example, “I would like to go to the movies, but I don’t have any money. Could you loan me some money and I’ll pay you back when I have the chance.”

BACKGROUND

The Chino Valley Unified School District routinely revises curriculum guides and develops new courses in accordance with State Content Standards, State Frameworks, and student need. Accordingly, the revision and development of curriculum guides are the results of a collaborative effort of teachers in the related academic areas.

Physical Education-Yoga is a year-long physical education course designed to introduce students to the practice of yoga as an integrated part of their physical education experience. This course revision reflects the addition of standards from the Physical Education Framework for California Public Schools Individual Activities—Yoga domain, as well as the addition of High School Course 1 physical education standards. This revision effectively incorporates performance expectations for 9th grade students enrolled in the course.

This course was presented to the Curriculum Council and A.C.T. has been consulted.

Consideration of this item supports the goals identified within the District’s Strategic Plan.

16. History of Course Development:
In the fall of 2010, the Physical Education department members entertained an open discussion of the immediate concern to address the lack of electives offered by the Physical Education Department and the students’ impacted schedules. In 2011, the notion of linking the students’ physical well-being with their emotional status and increasing stress levels was addressed. By 2012, the idea of implementing yoga as an elective was discussed but interest from students proved very low. Open communication between the students and the Physical Education teachers addressing the desire for yoga, not just as a four-week unit imbedded in the Physical Education teaching calendar but as a one semester elective course proved fruitful. Many alternatives were discussed with the administration concerning the space required for a yoga class. Space was found and the Physical Education department purchased 50 new yoga mats.

The curriculum for this course originated from the stunts and tumbling requirement for the 9th grade California state standards adopted in January of 2005 AND REVISED IN 2009. SINCE ITS ADOPTION IN 2014, PE-YOGA HAS GROWN AS A POPULAR AND RIGOROUS ALTERNATIVE TO TRADITIONAL PE COURSES. WITH THE INCLUSION OF COURSE 1 STANDARDS INTO THE COURSE, IT NOW MEETS THE REQUIREMENTS IN PREPARING STUDENTS TO TAKE THE 9TH GRADE PHYSICAL FITNESS TEST. Throughout this unit, balance poses were often taught. Connecting with the KIN 116A Yoga and Meditation class offered at Cal Poly Pomona, the style and teaching strategies were adapted to meet the needs of our high school students and used during the stunts and tumbling unit. The Cal Poly Pomona Yoga Alliance was formed to allow Cal Poly students, staff, faculty, and alumni to attend weekly Yoga classes. The strategies used in the teaching of the poses as well as the method of relaxation breathing during that class were adopted and incorporated into a four-week unit imbedded in the Physical Education calendar at Chino High School. Fitness and Wellness classes are offered by the University of San Diego, specifically a Yoga Power Flow class. The practice of yoga in this specific class was incorporated within the 9th grade preparation for the State Physical Fitness Test. The asana in the yoga class focused on muscular strength and flexibility and had a direct impact on the success of the 9th grade PFT scores. Combining the experiences and adoption of the teaching strategies and methodologies from the two university classes, as well as the success of the 4 week yoga unit within the PE calendar, this new yoga course as an elective open to 9-12 grades will complement and enhance the PE elective choices for students.

BACKGROUND

In order to provide the Board of Education with regular and summative expulsion information, an expulsion report will be presented on a semester basis. This report will indicate the number of students recommended for expulsion, the offense, and the disposition of each case. During first semester 2019/2020, there were 33 students recommended for expulsion. Of those recommendations, 24 students were expelled and 9 were revoked.

In accordance with Board Policy 5144.1, policies and standards of behavior consistent with the Education Code are established in order to promote learning and protect the safety and well-being of all students. When these policies and standards are violated, it may be necessary to expel a student from regular classroom instruction.

Expulsion is an action taken by the Board for severe or prolonged breaches of discipline by a student. Except for single acts of a grave or serious nature, expulsion is used only when there is a history of misconduct, when other means of correction, including other forms of discipline such as suspension, have failed to bring about proper conduct, or when the student's presence causes a continuing danger to him/herself or others.

The zero-tolerance approach makes the removal of potentially dangerous students from the classroom a top priority, ensures fair and equal treatment of all students, and requires that all offenders be punished to the fullest extent allowed by law. The Education Code mandates recommendations for expulsion in a number of instances, with discretion to actually impose expulsion vested in the final decision of the District's Board of Education after an evidentiary hearing has been held before a District expulsion hearing panel.
Before the expulsion process starts, site administration shall immediately report to the Superintendent or designee any incidence of offenses specified in law, board policy and administrative regulation as cause for suspension or expulsion.

Consideration of this item supports the goals identified within the District’s Strategic Plan.
