SENIOR NIGHT FINISHES OFF A GREAT SEASON

By Vincent Garcia

This year's senior night took place on Friday October 28 at the Chino High football stadium before the Pink Out Game.

The Chino Cowboys lost the Pink Out Game and were defeated by Covina High School with a score of 49-27. It was a tough loss for the Chino Cowboys.

Senior night was a memorable night for these seniors that gave them the opportunity to be acknowledged for their hard work throughout these past years playing football at Chino High School. Not only were senior football players acknowledged, but also cheerleaders, color guard, and band members.

Each student walked down the red carpet with their parents and were announced with a short summary about themselves. Students at Chino were also greeted with food and beverages.

DODGERS TRADING DEADLINE

By Autumn Quiroz

The Los Angeles Dodgers ended their season in a devastating 3-5 loss against the Padres on October 15th. Since then, concerns surrounding the new free agents and upcoming trade deadline have submerged.

With Spring training coming up in February, President of Baseball Operations for the Los Angeles Dodgers, Andrew Friedman, must make the tough decision of deciding who leaves and who arrives.

Although free agency started on November 6, it was not until 2PM on Thursday that players could negotiate contract terms with all teams.

As of November 11, Clayton Kershaw and the Dodgers agreed on a 1-year deal around $20 million. Reports about extending a $19.65 million qualifying offer to Trea Turner for the 2023 season, but reports claim the Philadelphia Phillies are the team most likely to sign the shortstop. As a result, the Dodgers view Dansby Swanson as a backup option to Turner in the free agency.

The Dodgers have yet to release any more information about their free agents, but with hopes of bettering the team for the 2023 season.

A BIG THANK YOU TO ASB!

By Alyssa Candelaria

Throughout the 2022 football season, Chino High School's ASB has done an amazing job at showing school spirit.

ASB comes out to every home game to fill the stadium with posters, they took time out of their day to make.

At the first CIF game of the season, ASB took two buses with students out to fill our student section.

This year ASB has introduced hallway pep rallies. These pep rallies brought out band, cheer, and the varsity football team to run through the hallways showing their spirit.

ASB also creates the amazing rallies that always came together perfectly.

Siennah Rivera, a first year ASB student said "Before the football games, we learn chants, make posters to decorate the stadium, and we also dress up to show support."

ASB does a lot of hard work and they deserve recognition for the support they give football and other sports.

SENIOR COLLEGE WORKSHOP DATES

By Fernanda Sanchez

Chino High School offers many workshops that will help guide struggling seniors during the month of November.

November is the most stressful month for seniors as college applications are due at the end of the month. Many students struggle with what requirements they need to fill those applications out or deciding where they want to apply. These college workshops are an extremely helpful tool that will make planning the next four years of your life a little easier.

In room A128, Martha Martinez oversees the career center. The career center offers a variety of helpful services that will help students with finding a college or career that works for them. Ms. Martinez also oversees the several types of workshops that local colleges are kindly offering for Chino high students.

The upcoming workshop is happening this week on November 15th. This workshop is hosted by the local community college, Mount Sac. They will give a general overview of applying and the process that is needed to take.

The next application workshop is on December 13th. Students must have a personal email for this workshop. The last two college workshops are on January 12th and February 9th. The one held on January 12th will be an application make-up workshop and an online orientation for the seniors who are interested.

THE BOYS RESTROOM ISSUE

By Brandon Lopez

This year at Chino High School there are problems with the restrooms. Students are vandalizing the restrooms; vandalism has been a problem on the new campus since the first day of school.

Students are taking the mirrors off the walls, removing soap dispensers, and throwing toilet paper on the floor and throwing toilet paper rolls in the toilets themselves. The problem with the bathrooms at Chino is only in the boys' bathrooms.

There is only one restroom open throughout the day to prevent more vandalism, but vandalism is still a problem. Another problem with vandalism is other students seeing the vandalism take place and are not saying anything. Currently the only restroom that is open to the boys is D building's downstairs restroom.

There are consequences if a student is caught in an act of vandalism, they will be given a fine by the district and Ms. Torres.

To prevent more vandalism from taking place in the boy's restrooms Coach Victor, security guard says, "If you see something, say something."

THANKSGIVING BREAK

By Karla Quezada

What do most people in Chino High School do during their Thanksgiving Break? Thanksgiving Break will be taking place from November 21st through November 25th.

Thanksgiving Break is right around the corner and many people are excited and others are disheartened about it. Many have said that they are excited because they need a break from school, and they cannot wait. Students have also said that with schools dismissing students late they do not have enough time to spend with their family, others say that they are working during the break.

“Ever since school started and I do not really get the chance to spend time with my family because once I get out of school I go home and do my homework, then after I eat and by then it is close to bedtime.” said Karen Quezada. “This upcoming break I would like to take a break from school because I do believe that it does put some stress on us students and a little break will not hurt.” stated Quezada.

Other students said that they are not that excited for thanksgiving break. Some said that they like being here at school and learning. Others say they get bored at home and would rather be at school with friends. Mariana Lopez explained, “I do not really like being at home because I have to hear my little siblings scream and play all day, and at school there is no little kids and I get to spend time with my friends.” Lopez stated, “During school I learn and at home all I do is chores and sometimes babysit my siblings, and I am not a very patient person around kids.”

In conclusion, there are many students in Chino High School that cannot wait for Thanksgiving Break, but there is also a portion of that do not really want the break.

NEW PASS POLICY

By Julian Gonzalez

As we are getting closer to the end of the semester, the school is getting stricter about their policies. Having the new pass policy, they hope it would get rid of some of the wanderers

The new policy forces you to carry a pass with you. If you do not have a pass, you will be sent to the office and get a Friday work study. By enforcing the new policy, they hope that it would make people go from point A to point B quickly.

Officer Torres said, “We have some big plans coming for the new policy.” The buildings are forced to have an assigned color. So, if staff sees an A building hall pass around buildings, they will question it.

Some people, however, do not see how the new pass will change things. A student by the name of Gia Suraci says a Friday work study will not scare people into following directions. She feels like the policy doesn't affect her, but it will cause more problems than fix them.

THANKSGIVING TRADITIONS FROM STAFF AND STUDENTS

By Nathaniel Gonzalez

Nathan Garcia, who is a freshman at Chino High School claims that for his Thanksgiving tradition, he goes over to his aunt's house and says a prayer with his family before he eats. Garcia added that he also watches football and plays games with his family.

Lina Rodriguez who is a junior at Chino High school states, “For Thanksgiving we eat tacos and turkey and play secret Santa”.

Rodriguez also added that she has Thanksgiving at her house with her family every year.

Ryan Meneses, a math teacher at Chino High School states, “I like to get together with my siblings and close friends and we don't eat traditional Thanksgiving food, instead we like to pick a theme each year for what we want to eat, like Mexican food or steaks”. He also does a secret Santa with them.

AVID STUDENTS TAKE OFF ON THREE-DAY TRIP!

By Mikaila Felix

The week of November 7, a group of Avid students and Chino High staff members took off for a three-day trip to tour different Universities throughout California.

This trip gave students a fantastic opportunity to learn about and tour different universities that they may want to apply to, all while hanging out with their friends and having a great time!

The Avid trip was two nights and three days long and would cost each student about $400 with all-inclusive meals, transportation, and stay. They traveled from each destination on a charter bus, stayed at two different hotels, and were given a personal tour by different students at each university.

Around twenty-five juniors and seniors attended this exciting field trip along with Mrs. Nelson, Ms. Bergman, Mr. To, Mrs. McFarland, and Ms. Norman. They all had a great time and took away a lot of valuable information from this trip!

Brittney Hopkins said, "This trip was really fun and a great experience for us to tour these colleges and see all the different types of environments within each college

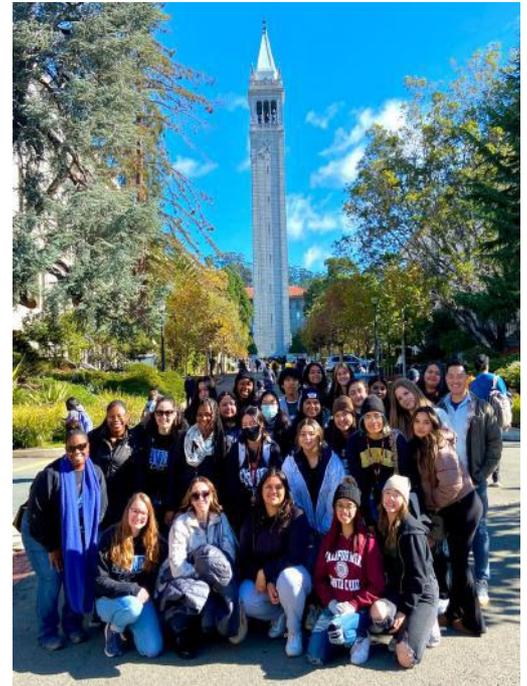

Aaliyah Diaz, one of the other Avid students who attended the trip added, "It was truly a great experience that helped me figure out what type of college I would like to apply to after experiencing the student life on each of these different campuses."

The students and staff members who attended this field trip left Chino High's campus the morning of November 7. They were picked up in a large charter bus, which took them to their first destination, UC Santa Barbara.

After touring UC Santa Barbara, they then visited Cal Poly SLO and spent their first night at a hotel in Monterey, called Hampton Inn. The next morning, they had breakfast at the hotel then visited CSU Monterey Bay. They later toured UC Santa Cruz and the University of San Francisco.

They spent their second night at a hotel in San Francisco and took off to UC Berkeley the next morning. After touring the campus, they departed for home, which was a nine-hour drive.

They returned home on November 9, at around 9pm. In total, these Avid students were able to tour six different Universities located in California.

The Avid advisor, Mrs. Nelson said, "The AVID Junior Trip was a lot of fun this year. This trip is a great opportunity for students to explore colleges away from home and experience the college culture. Pier 39 was one of the highlights on the trip. The students were able to explore the pier and do some shopping. On our last stop, we were able to meet up with a former Chino High AVID grad who is currently attending UC Berkeley."

CHINO COWBOY ATHLETES RECEIVE COLLEGE OFFERS!

By Gabe Naranjo

Chino High Senior athlete Raul Sanchez and Ramon Montes Torrez both look to continue their athletic careers playing college ball.

Raul Sanchez transferred to Chino High from Roosevelt High School last year to play baseball. He plays middle infield and third base for Chino. He is currently deciding where he is going to go for college baseball. Sanchez is an enthusiastic, open-minded athlete.

Last year Sanchez had to sit out for the remainder of the season, but Sanchez is excited to come back and play this year. He says he is determined and ready for any competition we may play against during league.

Sanchez is currently talking to Arizona University. He hopes to not get injured this season, so he doesn't ruin the opportunity of playing college baseball for one of these colleges. He has been putting in hard work in the offseason of summer for this opportunity.

Another athlete with offers is Roman Montes Torres who plays football for Chino High. Torres is a kicker and wide receiver for the Cowboys. He says his last year at Chino was a sad one but one to remember. "We went down in defeat, but I still will remember the [bad] times and good times I had this year with this amazing team."

Torres currently has an offer from Anna Maria college and Whitter college. He is excited to commit to one of them soon. He has finished off good during the season, but Chino was defeated in round 2 of CIF.
